

De Graft Management (DGM) Newsletter – April 2021

We hope you are keeping safe and well.

We wanted to reach out to let you know exactly what the team at DGM (De Graft Management) have been up to since we last connected.

We have continued to grow our team in the UK, Ghana and Kenya and for the past year we have worked remotely with our clients using Zoom, Teams, MS 365 and other collaborative tools.

We met some of you at our webinar in August (link here) DGM Webinar - Property & Asset Management during and post COVID-19 in Africa with panelists including Angela Angwenyi and Herman Chinery-Hesse.

We also participated in Brunel University's International Business Opportunities in Africa Webinar in December. Please check out both events via the links.

What's New

- Following on from our successful webinar last year we are incorporating feedback and upgrading our property & asset management tech to support our clients during and post COVID 19
- We are moving to the Microsoft Azure Cloud Platform joining eBay, Samsung, BMW, GE Healthcare and many more. This will mean improved security, support and scalability for our customers
- We are developing new solid waste management technology for property managers and occupiers to support regular and efficient collection, recycling and disposal of residential and commercial waste
- Our trainers now also provide segregation of waste and recycling training to raise awareness of the importance of waste separation

We are also planning an exciting showcase of our new technology later this year in Nairobi (COVID protocols allowing of course!) and will be in touch shortly with the details.

In the meantime please send me a personal email on lenarosenior@de-graft.com if you would like to attend, find out more about our technology or if you simply want to continue our conversation about implementing our award winning property and asset management tech.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Keep safe
The DGM Team
